DRAW ON NATURE FESTIVAL SCHEDULED FOR

April 29 – 30

DRAW ON NATURE FESTIVAL – The National Science Center’s Fort Discovery and the Morris Museum of Art. Combining Art, Science and Technology is the theme for this year’s Festival. On Saturday, April 29, from 10 a.m. – 4 p.m., outside on the Science Plaza, visitors can enjoy Festival activities including nature-related exhibits, face painting and much more. Naturalist Rudy Mancke will lead guests on nature hikes from Fort Discovery to the Morris Museum of Art at 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. Student nature journals will be on display inside Fort Discovery. Guests at the Morris Museum of Art can view the works of Georgia naturalist and artist John Abbot. On Sunday, April 30, student nature journals will be on display at Fort Discovery from Noon – 5 p.m. and at the Morris Museum of Art, Rudy Mancke will present a slide lecture on the art and life of John Abbot at 2 p.m. Fort Discovery will offer half-price admission both days of the Festival: Adults, $4.00; Children, Seniors & Active Military, $3.00; Members, Free.
