

Contact: Julie Butler, Marketing Director
(706) 821-0607, butlerj@nscdiscovery.org

February 2, 2009

For Immediate Release

Exhibit made possible by:

INSTITUTE of
Museum and Library
SERVICES

And the generous support of our local sponsors:

Raytheon

METRO AUGUSTA
Parent

Augusta, GA. – Please join us, Thursday, Feb. 5 at 11:00 a.m., for our media preview/ribbon cutting of the exciting, new exhibit – National Geographic MAPS: Tools for Adventure! Special thanks to Brad Usry and Fat Man's Riverfront Café for providing light lunch hors d'oeuvres! And, to Caroline Chamberlain – for an added treat!

Saturday, Feb. 7 from 9 – 10:00 a.m. is Member Preview! Light breakfast items available.

We will have half priced admission for Sunday and Monday (Feb. 8 and 9) due to some movement on the floor of attractions, in preparation for Savannah River Site Technology Days. And, Tuesday and Wednesday (Feb. 10 and 11) we will be closed to the general public, though open to hundreds of middle schoolers, in groups, attending SRS Tech Days.

Please note: general public is encouraged to attend Tuesday (Feb. 10) SRS Tech Days Family Night from 4:30 – 7:30 p.m. – for FREE – courtesy of SRS! They'll see the SRS exhibits plus National Geographic MAPS: Tools for Adventure!

###