THE NATIONAL SCIENCE CENTER'S FORT DISCOVERY CELEBRATES NATIONAL SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY WEEK

April 24 – 30

DESIGN AND TECHNOLOGY IN ARCHITECTURE – In celebration of National Science & Technology Week, Fort Discovery and the Augusta Chapter, American Institute of Architects will have a display depicting 3-D modeling used in architecture design. Samples of older models, miniatures made of cardboard and high-tech versions now used with computer graphics and animation will be on display on the science center's second floor. The exhibit is free with paid admission and open during regular operating hours. For
