

Contact: Julie Butler, Marketing Director
(706) 821-0607, butlerj@nscdiscovery.org

February 11, 2009

For Immediate Release

Augusta, GA. – PlayBack “The Band” is back to help Augustans add fun and romance to their Valentine’s weekend! Join us Friday, February 13 (Valentine’s Eve) under the stars in the 2nd floor atrium of the National Science Center’s Fort Discovery.

Your ticket price really stretches, too! PlayBack fires up at 8:00 p.m. – but arrive early and tour the new National Geographic MAPS: Tools for Adventure (land, sea, air, and space exploration) in the Knox Gallery from 7 – 8:00 p.m. – at no extra charge!

Plus, thanks to Fat Man’s Riverfront Café – you’ll be treated to their specialty dessert – Miss Pearl’s Red Velvet Cake! And, while here, don’t forget to register for a chance to win a handmade, willow Optima picnic basket (Lilly Pulitzer-ized) from Via Mizner of Surrey Center or a 2 night/ 3 day villa stay at The Sea Pines Resort in Hilton Head Island! Table seating and dance floor. Cash bar available. Casual dress.

Don’t miss the jazz, the Motown, the classic dance songs – and trademark voice and humor of Ms. Tutu D’Vyne! Tickets on sale now at National Science Center’s Fort Discovery – front desk. $10 in advance/ $15 at the door Located at the corner of Seventh and Reynolds Streets, on the Riverwalk.

###